City Heads
Entertain
Coast Group

City officials of Bay St. Louis were hosts at a dinner meeting Monday night in the Reed Hotel of Coast Municipal Officials Association.

The four-point association legislative program, with its principal goal of increasing state municipal aid, was discussed at a business session later. Members were reminded of the need to lend support to state legislative candidates who were friendly to municipalities and their aims.

Commissioner H. C. Ezell of Pascagoula, president of the Association, announced that an April district meeting of the Southern Municipal Officials would be at Gulfport. A report on the January meeting of the state executive committee of Municipal Officials was given by Bay St.
Louis Mayor John A. Scaffide and Biloxi Mayor Laz Quave.

Mayor Francis Hursey of Pass Christian invited the officials to meet March 9 at Pass Christian.

Others present included Bay
St. Louis Commissioners J. Cyril Glover and Warren Traub; Waveland Mayor Garfield Lader and Alderman Albert N. Grass, Pass
Christian Alderman Sam Armato,
Long Beach Mayor Robert L.
Reed, Gulfport Mayor R. B. Meadows Jr., Biloxi Commissioners Dominic Fallo and Pete Elder, and Pascagoula Commissioner Vincent P. Ross.

Alaskan, Legion Floats
Pace Parade Winners

A very recent historical event, Alaska's admission as the 49th state, was used by students of Waveland School, winners of the best float prize in the Mardi Gras parade. Theme of this year's parade was Historical Events.

Intermittent fog and rain could not dim the gaiety of the paraders or the cheering spectators who lined the parade route and caught the trinkets which the float-riders threw out, in typical Carnival tradition.

Heaviest concentration of watching revelers was at the Courthouse where Mayor John A.
Scaffide presented young King Harry Shattuck with the key to the city and with the queen, Geraldyn Jones, toasted the king. The royal couple, both eighth grade students at Bay High School, were reigning stars of the parade and ball following.

King Harry's throne was atop a float which carried the pages and heralds of the royalty.

The queen, who with her maids greeted the king from the courthouse steps, was garbed in bouffant white net and tulle. Her maids wore long, full pastel gowns.

The beating of drums by members of Bay High Band, under the direction of Marcel LaNasa, heralded the beginning of the parade, which was led by the American Legion and Boy Scout color guards.

The Legion float, titled Washington Crosses the Delaware, took first prize in the business and organizational contest. Judging was during the celebration at Bay High gymnasium after the parade.

Prancing horses followed the flag bearers. Bud Moran received the Betty Younger trophy, which Miss Younger gives each year to the best all-round horseman from among her students at Lazy-Y Stables.

Judy Tallac was chosen as the best costumed rider. Owner of the white horse Miss Tallac rode, Talmadge Corkins of Cross Roads, received the best horse trophy.

A very realistic and very green Green Giant man was the applauded winner of the prize for the best adult masker. The wear-was Mrs. Glenda Johnson.

A tiny early-American wagon train was led by the three winners of the prize for best children's masking. The young pioneers, Robin Crochran, Barry Favre and Allen Lang, were accompanied by a costumed pioneer woman, Mrs. Joe Favre.

Second prize school float, entitled First Space Rocket Launched, was entered by students at Webb School.

A tiny bride and groom, Cindy Colson and Norman Green, received second prize in the children's masking contest. Davey Crockett, as depicted by Clyde Koerner, was third prize winner.

City school floats included
Coronation of the Queen, by Bay Grammar School first and second grades; American Independence—1776 to 1939, by third and fourth grades; Ponce de Leon and the Fountain of Youth, by the fifth grade, and Our First Flag, by the sixth grade.

Logtown School's entry portrayed a Panorama of American History. The Beginning of the United Nations was the theme of the Christ Episcopal Day School float.

A "Monkey Missile" was entered by Breath's Boat Works and a decorated wrecker represented Porter's Pontiac Service.

Judges, who announced their decisions during the carnival celebration at the gymnasium, were Mrs. E. C. Samuel, Mrs.
Wallace Chevis and Mrs. Al
Voight. Mrs. Paul Miller, chairman of the judging committee, selected the judges, members of Bay-Waveland Garden Club.

At the Mardi Gras was the theme of the entertainment program, he said, and its cost
was a heavy factor in the welfare budget. One suggestion was that a volunteer group be enrolled to handle transportation and distribution of the commodities, thus cutting county welfare spending
by $600.

KEY TO THE CITY—King Harry Shattuck of the Krewe of Chicapoula accepts the key to the city from Mayor John A. Scaffide at the courthouse during Tuesday's local Mardi Gras parade. King Harry, an eighth grade student at Bay High School, rode atop a regal float with his dukes. See page 6.

Camellia Lovers
Groom for Show

With the Bay-Waveland Garden Club's camellia show to start this Saturday, Feb. 14, several area residents flexed their muscles, or flowers, at the Gulfport
Garden Club's show last weekend.
Dr. Walter C. Hava received the gold certificate from the American Camellia Society and the sweepstakes award for the most blue ribbons, while Mrs.
Paul Miller brought back the Tricolor ribbon and silver tray for the best arrangement in the show.
Mrs. P. E. Porter was runner-up in the arrangement division.

Weather

According to the U. S. Weather Bureau's extended forecast for the Mississippi coast, the temperatures through Monday should be 4 to 8 degrees above normal, though briefly cooler around the weekend. Moderate to heavy precipitation from occasional showers is expected.

Foster Child Fund Hike
Sought from Supervisors

Board of Supervisors Monday considered the plea of Mrs. Norton Haas, head of the Child Welfare Department, for more funds for the care and maintenance of children in foster homes.

Mrs. Haas explained that of the $150 a month donated by the county for these children, $100 goes for boarding the 10 children in foster homes in the county. The state also provides $30 a month
board per child.

This leaves $50 a month, she said, for medical supplies and care, and clothing for the 10 children.

The supervisors were asked to raise the allotment to $200.
Mrs. Haas said she could not continue to provide for the children's needs with $50 a month.

Best 5 Supervisor R. G. Hubbard remarked that the budget presently did not allow for the raise and noted cost of distribution of free federal commodities amounted to $600 a month.

Mrs. Haas earlier sought installation of the commodities program, he said, and its cost
was a heavy factor in the welfare
budget. One suggestion was that
a volunteer group be enrolled to
handle transportation and distribution of the commodities, thus
cutting county welfare spending
by $600.

The supervisors did agree to give Raymond a written statement of their desire to cooperate with any desirable new industry.

Jones' Easter Float
Wins in Negro Parade

Easter was the theme of the winning float, entered by Valena
C. Jones School, in Tuesday's Negro Mardi Gras parade, sponsored by St. Rose de Lima Convent.

The sun came out just in time for the lively parade which ended at the convent, where entertainment for the queen, Elyria Fair-connetie, was held.

Two highlights of the parade were some whooping, war-dancing young Indians and a truck carrying a saxophonist surrounded by handclapping, rhythmic students.

At one point the truck slowed and Negro youngsters, caught by the spirit of the Dixieland music, danced in the street.

The day's festivities ended with a dance at 8 p.m. in Hundred Men Pavilion.

Queen Elyria shared a special float with her maids, Terry Lizana, Linda Lizana, Thartha
Young, Valleri Garrett, Vanette
Farve, Pamela Williams, Denise Hazzler, Joy Ellen Wallace, Le-jorie Roberson, Gilda Singleton and Lonnie Bradley.

George Washington, as depicted by Barry Thomas, was the theme of the first float. Michael Vontour, Harry Farve and Olander Garrett were on the Columbus Day float.

Miss Liberty and the Liberty
Bell were on the Independence Day float which carried Michael Barras, Patricia Farve and Albert Curry.

Santa was the star of the Christmas float entered by the Social Workers Club. Children on the float were Bobby Mosley, Andre Lizana, Rose Marie Rabo-teau and Leatrice Cain.

A Valentine theme was charmingly presented on the Pass
Christian Randolph School float.

Mayor Backs
Legion Drive

In furtherance of the effort by the American Legion of Mississippi to obtain the lead position in the national convention parade at Minneapolis, Minn., this August, Mayor John Scaffide today proclaimed the months of February, March and April as Join the American Legion months and urged those eligible to join immediately.

Mayor Scaffide pointed out the immense publicity value to the State leading this annual parade, and particularly to Mississippi
this year, since Mississippi's
Miss America, Miss Mary Ann
Mehley, has agreed to lead this State's delegation in the parade.

Slight Perhaps, But A Start

The interest shown by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, as well as by prominent local business leaders, in the possibility of persuading one or more small industries to locate in the county should be encouraging to those concerned with the economic prosperity of this area. While summer vacations will continue to dominate much of the county, and tourists may provide the business along U. S. 90, industry with its weekly payrolls would be a source of more stable, and consequently more desirable, income.

At least two news items of the past ten days point up this economic need of Hancock County and Bay St. Louis. Mississippi Power Company has announced a sizeable expansion program, but at present it appears that none of this new construction is planned for Hancock County. The other story is even more pointed. A survey of general business activity in the Biloxi-Gulfport District for the month of December, 1938, shows Bay St. Louis to be the only community listed which had a decrease compared to December, 1937, and the decrease was a substantial six per cent.

Economic news stories dealing with Hancock County during the past two weeks have been both good and bad. Continued effort by the political bodies of Hancock County and by the Chamber of Commerce might cause it to be all good. A start has been made.

Be Reasonable, Do It My Way

If one were to name the five or six States whose political leaders more frequently than any others had advocated a strong centralized government for the United States with the purported advantage of uniformity throughout the country, one could not help but include California. Equally, if the criteria were changed to insistence on other states changing so as to conform to these politicians' ideas of correctness - a "be reasonable, do it my way" approach - again California must be named.

Consequently, even though golf and politics are quite different, it seems incongruous that it would be the Southern California Golf Association that recently changed some of its major rules so that they no longer are the same as the rules of the United States Golf Association and the Royal and Ancient Order.

Aside from the possible problems this may raise for Southern California golfers, we wonder what Mr. Chief Justice Warren thinks?

The Boy Scout Need

This week is Boy Scout Week, and the Boy Scouts of America are celebrating 45 years of service to the communities of this country. Americans generally approve the aims and results of the Scout program. This is no less true of the residents of the Bay-Pass District of the Boy Scouts of America. And both here and nationwide the majority, if asked, would give financially to see the program continued.

Without disparaging financial support, a gift of time by able adults would be of more benefit. While money is needed, active leadership by qualified adults, whether as scoutmaster, assistant scoutmaster, cubmaster or otherwise is more difficult to obtain. A few are carrying the load for the many.

To quote the St. Louis, La., ST. TAMMANY TIMES: "If Scouting is to survive, parents will have to match the eagerness of their sons, men who remember their own boyhood must volunteer to share the leadership of the current crop of youngsters and more than lip service will be required of the general public."

The Bible Teaches Truths That Set Men Free

Church Has Its Place, Too, In This Specialized World

A clergyman was once discussing with a parishioner the need to attend church.

The pastor wasn't making much headway. The parishioner kept insisting the church was fine for some people but that he didn't need to go.

Finally the pastor fired a series of questions at him.

"When you get sick, what do you do?"

"Go to a doctor or a hospital," replied the skeptic.

"When you need legal advice, what do you do?" the pastor asked.

"Go to a judge or lawyer."

"When your car won't run what do you do?"

"Take it to the garage."

Whereupon the pastor said: "Every answer you have given shows that you go to a specialist to take care of your needs. When you're sick, you go to the hospital; when you need legal advice, you go to a lawyer; when your car won't run, you take it to a repairman."

"Why is it then," the pastor continued, "that you don't place the care of your soul in the hands of a specialist - a clergyman, whose profession has trained him to care for your spiritual needs?"

The parishioner didn't answer, but he was in church the following Sunday.

Your pastor, priest or rabbi can't help you unless you let him. Every week he conducts a service to take care of the most important need of your life.

A man has to live with himself, and he should see to it that he always has good company.

Views From Other Newspapers

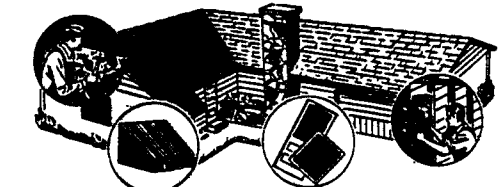

... There is no foreseeable limit to what we, through our economic, social and political organizations can achieve. It will be the ultimate irony if, in the light of this, we surrender the individual to mass big-ness, whether in government or anywhere else. We never had a more urgent need to uphold age-old principles and convictions that make for the only worthwhile kind of progress - confidence in something, faith in ideals, fairness, the determination to defend what one believes to be right.

Walt Whitman wrote, a century ago: "The whole theory of the universe is directed unerringly to one single individual, namely to you." Man in the mass must never hid the face of the individual man. - Camden, S. C., CHRONICLE.

My Favorite Prayer

BY GRACE DANIELS
President, National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.
Oh, God, by whom the meek are guided in judgment and light riseth up in darkness for the godly; grant us, in our doubts and uncertainties, the grace to ask what Thou wouldst have us to do; that the Spirit of wisdom may save us from all false choices, and that in Thy light we may see light, and in Thy straight path may not stumble. Direct us Oh Lord, in all our doings, with Thy most gracious favor, and further us with Thy continual help; that in all our works begun, continued, and ended in Thee, we may glorify Thy holy name, and finally, by Thy mercy, obtain everlasting life; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Chevy panel steps lively in Florida...runs day and night, delivers 19.3 miles per gallon!

This '39 Chevy panel is on the go, morning, noon and night; it covers as much as 587 miles a day... runs so constantly that its engine never cools off completely. Yet Mr. Clark Farber, the Tampa Tribune's circulation manager, reports that the truck is delivering 19.3 miles per gallon!

This year, the light-, medium- and heavy-duty trucks of the 1939 Chevrolet Task-Force fleet are out to whip anything that comes their way—and they've got what it takes to do it!

Take the panel pictured above, for example. Powered by the '39 Thriftmaster-6 with new economy-contoured camshaft, it's building a sensational economy record, despite the sizzling pace of its work. That's typical of the way Chevies of all sizes are turning to on the most challenging jobs in America. The way they're made, with tough-built truck components, they make the hardest hauls look easy! Fog, Drizzle Blamed In Area Auto Mishaps

Heavy fog and an all-day drizzle were blamed for four automobile accidents Sunday on Mississippi county roads.

No. one was injured in two accidents Sunday on U. S. 11, south of Picaune, Mississippi State Highway Patrolmen William P. Keady and Fred Curren, investigating officers, reported.

About $500 damage was sustained by a 1952 Ford driven by Ben Bennett, 55, of Picaune in an accident at 12:45 p.m. about six miles south of Picaune.

The collision occurred when a 1958 Cadillac driven by Dr. Edward Farrar, 55, of Birmingham, Ala., traveling south, attempted to avoid a 1946 Ford driven by Isaac Johnson, 91, of Rye, La., traveling north, when Johnson turned left onto a side road.

Dr. Farrar's car swerved into the path of Bennett's car after Bennett had stopped to avoid involvement in the accident. Damage to Dr. Farrar's car was estimated at $50.

Mrs. Ruth S. Estes, 42, of Georgetown, Ky., was driver of a 1956 Pontiac traveling south which slid out of control and into a ditch at 12:30 p.m. about seven miles south of Picaune. Patrolmen Keady estimated damage at $150. Mrs. Estes' husband and two children were passengers.

Forty-Five Initiated By K of C

Over 300 attended the exorcism of the first, second and third degrees of coast councils of Knights of Columbus Sunday at Picaune. The Due Council 1522, Knights of Columbus Hall here, initiated from Hancock County are James Ryan, Larry Smith, Gerard Freeman, Harvey B. Ming Jr., Adolph J. Lader, John A. Klein, Herbert Stettel, Clyde Lader, Carl D. Gotschall, August J. Scatelli Jr., George L. Senzeau Jr., Larry D. Fayard, Anthony J. Piazza Sr., Jake V. Morrell and the Rev. Kevin Reid.

Other initiates included eight each from Picaune, Biloxi and Gulfport and three from Pascagoula. Special guests were Hilton Seymour, Knights of Columbus state deputy, and Vernon DeJean, district deputy.

Visiting members represented councils throughout Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana.

A Mississippi City man was injured about 8 p.m. Sunday when his car struck a culvert and swerved off Kiln Road about 10 miles from US-90.

Thomas Thornton was driver of the 1958 Chevrolet which Deputy Sheriff Latham Garriga, investigating officer, described as a total loss. Thornton apparently lost control of the car, allowing it to skid off the road.

Three passengers, reported also to have been in the car, were not at the scene of the accident when Deputy Garriga arrived, he said. Thornton already had been taken to Gulfport Memorial Hospital, he said and witnesses could name only the driver, the Deputy added.

Thornton's condition is listed as "fairly good." He is suffering from shock and a possible fracture of the lateral process of the first lumbar vertebra.

A Waveland Negro, Henry H. Lafargue, of 183 St. Joseph St., suffered facial lacerations and abrasions Sunday night when his car swerved off Railroad Avenue and rammed into a telephone pole on the west side of the road. He was taken from Hancock County Hospital to Gulfport Memorial Hospital where his condition was listed as good.

Apparently there were no passengers in the car. Waveland Constable Fred Bourgeois, investigating officer, said he declined to question Lafargue extensively since the injured man's lip was bleeding severely. The left front of the car was badly damaged and the right front windshield was shattered and broken.

The accident occurred between 9 and 9:30 p.m. about one fourth mile south of Waveland Depot. Lafargue was driving north. A witness, Bert Davis of Waveland, said he was driving some distance behind Lafargue when he saw the sparks which erupted when telephone wires were broken.

A Waveland man suffered facial cuts when his automobile struck a bridge at the corner of Necaise Avenue and Booker Street at 4 a.m. Wednesday in the county's sixth vehicle mishap this week.

City Patrolman Julius Webre, who investigated the accident with Patrolman Son Capdepon, said Weldon Kober apparently turned too sharply onto Booker St.

Mr. Kober walked from the scene of the accident to the Sycamore Street home of Carl Thomas, who called police for him. He was taken to Hancock County Hospital for treatment.

Bay High to Open Spring Grid Practice

Although schedules are not completed, Bay High School baseball and track competition is slated to start March 13, Principal Donald Caldwell said. Spring football practice, which starts Feb. 16, will end March 13, Mr. Caldwell said.

"About 10 baseball games and three track meets can be expected this year," the principal said. Baseball district eight playoffs, in which the two teams with the best records will vie for the championship, will be before May 15.

The district track meet will be April 17.

Baseball and track will be added to the county sports calendar next year at the North Central consolidated school, said R. E. Webb, superintendent of the new school. Intermittent spring sports never have been offered at the small schools included in the consolidation, Mr. Webb said.

Football schedule for the North Central school, which, with Bay High School, has joined the Gulf Coast Conference, is not complete, Mr. Webb added.

Two Hancock Schools In New Sports League

Athletes at Bay High School and North Central School of Hancock County are included in a newly formed Gulf Coast Conference, Bay St. Louis Superintendent Joe D. McCullough has announced.

Organization of the eight-team conference will be effective July 1, Mr. McCullough, vice-president of the new league, said. Disbandment of the 16-team DeSoto Conference to which Bay High now belongs will be official at the end of this school year.

Other teams in the new league are Carriere, Pass Christian, Long Beach, Harrison Central, Perkinston and Ocean Springs. Consolidation of the Kila, Deaux, Sellers, and Leetown Schools will give the North Central school a total enrollment of 700, said Kila Principal Oren Seal.

"By drawing from all the areas included in the consolidation we will be able to compete favorably with all the other teams in the area, and we should have one of the best basketball teams of all," Mr. Seal said.

A bylaw of the new conference limits the number of member schools to nine, Mr. McCullough said. This will prevent the new league from becoming overly large, he added.

Both Hancock County schools in the league plan to play all the other teams in the new conference during next year's football season, plus three outside games. Another bylaw requires the conference championship team to have played at least four conference games during the season during the first year.

After the second year no team may qualify for the championship without playing each other team in the conference once. This is designed to protect schools which already have made contracts for next year.

Ladner Appointed

Patrolman Jack Ladner has been appointed a regular member of the City Police Force, members of the Commission Council announced. Mr. Ladner has served as a policeman several months on an hourly basis.

In the girls' division, DeLisle defeated Gulf View 24-17 for that championship. Consolation winner was Baxterville.

Thirteen girls' teams and 12 boys' units representing five counties competed in the event.

A highlight of the tournament which opened Feb. 4 was the presentation of the good sportsmanship trophy contributed by Coast Electric Company to Christ Episcopal Day School of Bay St. Louis.

The trophy, inaugurated this year, was awarded by Bill O. Watts, representative of the firm.

CONNER SIGNS BEER BILL

This was top news in February, 1934 when Gov. Miller Conner signed the bill making beer legal again. News accounts of the day tell how "the sample the adjourns to sample the beverage" in 1939, we mark the 25th anniversary of Mississippi's action in joining a nationwide move to return beer to legal control.

Through a program of Self-Regulation, the legal beer industry works constantly to be sure beer is sold and handled in Mississippi only in the most wholesome manner.

The United States Brewers Foundation maintains regular contact with all licensed beer retailers so as to help keep up these high standards. The Foundation also urges strict enforcement of Mississippi laws.

The state's tax on malt beverages is one of the highest in the nation. Largely through public acceptance of this light, bright beverage of moderation, legally-regulated beer still brings about $4 million a year in taxes: an important source of Old Age, road, school and Homestead Exemption funds.

LET THE DANCING BEGIN--Members of the Carnival Ball Court open dancing when presentation ceremonies for the court and reigning monarchs, Queen Marie Therese Staehle, and King Paul Loup, are concluded at St. Joseph's Academy Friday night. After two dances reserved for the court, their majesties requested all their citizens to join in the celebration and entertained a large number of friends at a reception at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club beginning at midnight.

Miss Staehle, Mr. Loup Reign as St. Joseph's Academy Ball Launches Gala Carnival Celebration in Bay St. Louis

Introduction of the queen came at the conclusion of the presentation of the 1959 court along with last year's monarchs, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gottschalk, and climaxed weeks of speculation as to the identity of the lucky young woman.

As she was announced by Robert L. Hamilton, master of ceremonies for the ball, Miss Staehle entered the ballroom and was escorted to the stage by Dan M. Russell Jr., general chairman.

She was attired in a stunning ball gown of white peau de soie appliqued with imported lace, iridescent sequins and glimmering beads in the form of roses adorned the full skirt. The bodice was fashioned with a square neckline in the front and back, also trimmed with lace and sequins, and tiny cap sleeves.

A brilliant crown, emblematic of her role as queen of the ball, and the traditional train of red velvet completed her attire. She exchanged a huge bouquet of American Beauty roses for a handsome scepter when she joined the king.

The daughter of William A.

Staehle of Bay View Court, it was her third appearance in a Carnival Court. She served as a maid on previous occasions. Miss Staehle is a native of New Orleans but her family moved here shortly afterwards. She is a graduate of St. Joseph's where she now teaches the second grade, and of Gulf Park College. She has attended summer sessions at Tulane University for several years.

Mr. Loup, resident of New Orleans and the Bay-Waveland area for many years, returned last July from Philadelphia and New York with his family to make his home here. He is associated with a varnish and paint firm.

The Loups have seven children, the two youngest serving as pages in the court for their father. They are Walter and Betty Loup.

The queen's pages were her niece and nephew, Susanne and Wade Stevens, children of Mr. and Mrs. Forest M. Stevens of New Orleans.

The Carnival king, costumed in traditional manner for the first time this year, wore a short white satin tunic embroidered with iri-descents and colored beads, and heavy white stockings. The rain-drops blended in perfectly with the era characterized by the stage backdrops painted with replicas of famous Renaissance statues as it developed the ball's theme of Cinderella.

Preceding the queen into the ballroom were her two ladies in waiting, the Misses Jeanette Monti and Tina Giani, both gowned in bouffant white dresses.

The maids in the court, escorted by members of the floor committee to join their dukes for the evening as they were announced by Mr. Hamilton, were lovely in their gowns of taffeta, lace and other elegant materials in an assortment of colors. They carried bouquets of iris sprays while their dukes were in white ties and tails.

Miss Staehle and Mr. Loup led the grand march in which all the court joined, thereupon entertainment began for their majesties. Pupils of Dot Russell's Dancing Studio gave two numbers: Jolly Jesters with Mary Toni Ladner, Dottie Nell Rausch, Sandra Jean Ladner and Dale Russell, and Two for Pierrot with Nita Kay Erwin and Dona Wiggins. Following that part of the program, members of the court had the first two dances and many of those in the large audience on hand to witness the court presentation joined in later numbers.

The Cinderella theme was developed in entertainment at the opening of the evening with Linda Orlin as narrator. Dona Wiggins portrayed Cinderella in rags with Nita Kay Erwin as the fairy godmother and Ann Gottschalk as the coachman.

Cast as mice were Jenny Lynn Burge, Sandra Jean Ladner, Ilona Marques, Vicki McCaleb, Tami Osolinach, Dottie Nell Rausch and Mary Shattuck. As horses were Jo Mary Artigues, Patsy Elliott, Erin Heitzmann, Ellen McDonald, Marilyn Piazza and Dale Russell.

Dancing blue birds were Paula Favre, Becky Adams, Mary Ann Becker, Sharon Griffin, Mary Toni Ladner, Nancy McDonald and Sarah Dale McFarland.

In the grand ball scene, Judy Taillac played Cinderella with Angele Camors as Prince Charming.

The maids were Marilyn

Heitzmann, Mimi Loup, Inez Favre, Sue Breath, Pat Blaize, Marie Liene Vassalli, Linda French and Joan Hubbard. Dukes were Beth Murtagh, Brenda Salvant, Margie Kemp, Martha Carr, Wynn Heath, Diane Grass, Josephine Morrison and Elleen Plunkett.

The tableau provided preface for the introduction of the court. The maids and their dukes were Miss Vicky Fouert and Charles Staehle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stines Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. Foley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dickson, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Stieffel, Mr. and Mrs. David L. Poindexter, Mrs. R. V. Smith and Dr. Otto Mollere, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Little Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Macrino Trelles, Mr. and Mrs. Perre Quintini, Mrs. John H. Bonck, Dr. Wesley McFarland, Miss Harriet Marie Ward and Larry Mauffray, Miss Linda Lee Normand and Kenneth Plunkett, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Ruiz and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Downs.

Members of the floor committee in addition to Mr. Hamilton, chairman, who served at the ball were Leo Seal Sr., Sam L. Favre Jr., H. W. LeTissier and Mr. Russell.

Mrs. Victor F. Fouert was directress of the court and Mrs. Lawrence J. Jacob Sr. was executive chairman.

Committee chairmen included Mrs. Robert L. Kemery, court; Mrs. Herman J. Mazarakis, advertising; Mrs. A. K. Martinovich Sr., co-chairman; Mrs. A. G. Favre and Mrs. Lewis Wagner, publicity; Mrs. Virgil Giani, set design; Mrs. Russell, entertainment; Edward Murtagh, ticket; Mrs. George Stelz, photography; Warren Carver, door; Mr. and Mrs. J. Scianna, A. J. Monti Jr., lighting; Mrs. Milton Phillips, floral; Victor F. Fouert, Edward Murtagh, seating arrangement; Mrs. A. Fazzio, assistant to royalty; Mesdames Gilbert Gayaut, Charles Poolson, Russell Elliott, L. B. Davis, assistant to committees, and Dr. James A. Evans and Robert L. Camors, honorary chairmen.

The king and queen were hosts at a reception at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club from midnight until 3 a.m. following the ball, inviting a large number of their friends to join them for the celebration. Refreshments were served from a table in the ballroom decorated with seasonal arrangements of flowers and candles.

CINDERELLA--Dona Wiggins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wiggins of Ramoneda, danced the title role of Cinderella, the poor little girl, in the tableau presented by students of Russell's Dancing Studio preceding the introduction of the Carnival Ball Court of the Parents Club of St. Joseph's on Friday night.
